ABSTRACTS

These whimsical, often unpredictable pieces are born out of my imagined places. I begin with a color in mind, or a memory of a certain light I've seen and I let the paint direct me. All are mixed media, including but not limited to, acrylic, watercolor, pastel, oil stick, charcoal, resin, and gesso.

LANDSCAPES

Landscape and plein air painting were my first love and introduction into the world of painting. Having spent summers on the Cape and in southern Maine I have always been inspired by the beauty nature provides us. The ocean has a particular pull for me as a subject, I feel humbled by it and moved by it's vastness, grandeur and the feeling of calm it brings me.

FOOD AND FLORAL

Whenever I look at a landscape and start to think about a painting and I am always struck by the little things just as often as I am awed by the larger picture. Painting food from the earth and flowers from our soil has been a way for me to celebrate these small treasures.

FIGURATIVE

This is a body of work and continued process that is very personal to me. This work came at a time in my life when things felt very dark and unknown. I found myself diving into these blurry, dreamy underwater images. They acted as a cathartic release for me and I have continued this journey as the paintings change and take on new meaning.
